James Dower Dismissed for Not Sustaining Charges.

MR. TULLOCH TALKS AGAIN

Bays His Charges Must Have Been Sustained in Letters Received by Postmaster-General, Else Replies Had Been Made Public.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 9. - PostmasiefGeneral Payne to-day dismissed James General Payne to-day dismissed James Dower, a fireman, employed in the Postoffice Department, as a result of charges that Dower recently filed against Chief-Engineer James O'Dohnell and other superior officers. Dower alleged that a ring to govern promotions and other matters existed in the engine-room and that improper contracts had been made. The charges were investigated by a postoffice inspector and the report does not sustain them. The Postmaster-General announced to-day that the action of Dower in 'making the frivolous and scandalous charges, glying them publicity and then falling utterly to sustain them, is to the detriment of the service and subversive of all discipline, the discharge of Dower is ordered for the good of the service." The inspector's report says Dower is reported by Assistant Engineer Anderson to have incited or attempted to incite other employes to acts of insubordination,. Postoffice Inspector Fosnes to-day took charge of the free-delivery service. Generan Superintendent Machen, who was relieved from duty yesterday, did not appear to turn over the office. He sent word that he was too ill to come.

CURIOUS COINCIDENCS.
Seymour W. Tulloch, the former casher of the Washington cily postoffice, who in a newspaper interview made charges against the administration of the postaservice at the time of his removal several years ago, was in the city to-day.

"It is a curious coincidence," said Mr. Tulloch, "that the suspension of Mr. Machen follows so closely the receipt of the replies to the letters the Postmaster-General sont regarding my statements. If the truth was told the information these replies contained must have fully borne out everything that I have said. Mr. Bristow is a thoroughly honest, and I is believe, fearless investigator, and his reply must have embodied data of which the Postmaster-General had not been previously aware. I regard my statements as substantiated in those replies, If the replies already exonerates the official's inquiries, the letters would have been immediately m Dower, a fireman, employed in the Post-

THOSE WHO WERE MEDAL WINNERS

Dr. Hillsman and Messrs. Mc. Pennsylvania Newspaper Men Clelland and Allison Were the Successful Ones

Seventeen shooters faced the traps yesterday on the grounds of the East End Gun Club, and they were all of one opinion-that the wind was too high to connect often with the "mud ples."

Dr. B, L. Hillsman won the weekly medal by one bird, and tied P. J. Filippen for high gun. Boudar and Anderson were the only shooters to make a straight of ten birds, but could not find a lull in the wind to repeat the performance.

a lull in the wind to repeat the performance.

Three new members joined the club and showed up well, considering the conditions of the shooting.

There is considerable interest centered in the competition for the Harris, Filippen & Co. medal, which was won by J. A. Anderson in the all-day shoot last Tuesday. Anderson will defend it in a fifty-bird race the last week in the month.

Mr. R. L. Johnson, a member of West End Club and an excellent shot, is the challenger. It is safe to say it will be a warm match.

Private Percy Montague and Lieutenant Peyton Take the Honous-Speeches by the Invited Guests-Special Services at Second Baptist.

Another red letter day goes down on the record of the history of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues.

The 110th anlyersary was celebrated yesterday at Westhampton Part, and there is not a member of the battallon who would not gainsay that it was not a most happy occasion.

All day from 10 o'clock in the morning to 7 in the evening the members of the organization and their invited guests passed the time lightly.

Cheering words, bright remarks, something good to eat and drink, fine weather, all combined, with nothing to mar the occasion, made the day one never to be forgotten by those who participated in the celebration.

Colonel Sol. Cutchins, the beloved comrade and long-time comamnder of the battallon, was master of ceremonies, and the aid and assistance he gave to Major Luther Cheatwood tended to expand the pleasures of the day.

INVITED GUESTS.

There were a number of Prominent citzens out as guests of the companies, in-

Thore were a number of Prominent citizens out as guests of the companies, including ex-Governor J. Hoge Tyler, Mr. John P. Branch, Speaker Ryan, Mr. Joseph Bryan and Captain Frank W. Cunningham.

Good words of praise and commendation were given, and at the end Captain Cuningham san gibat fine old song, "The Blue and Gray," after which "Auld Lang Syne" was sting by the entire party.

DANVILLE VA., May 9.—The case of the Robert Portner Brewing Company, through their agent, Wa L. Gibson, will come up before Judge Saunders, of the Circuit Court, on the 55th. An effort will be made to set aside the recent local option election could not be head in Danville. When the town of North Danville was annexed they had local option, and in their agreement it was expressly stated that the three wards on the south side of the river were not to have a vote on a local option election in that ward, and when the matter came up on this side the Rourth Ward was not to vote. Under this agreement the Fourth Ward did not vote in the recent election, and according to legal authorities the election could not be held without the whole city voting on the question. The law states that each ward in a city shall be allowed to vote on an election, and makes no provisions for any agreement that might have been entered into between the different wards of a city, such as exists here. Judge Berryman Green and ex-Senator Eugene Withers have been retained by the Portner Company.

As the matter now stands Danville is Lady's Auxiliary Formed at Last Night's Meeting.

Last night marked a new era and a long onward stride in the life of Richmond Council, No. 159, U. C. T. For some time there has been a strong desire to interest the ladies in the families of the membership of the council in this city in the work of the order. The desire found its till fruition in last night's meeting. A social session had been arranged, to which the ladies had been invited. After intreductions had been through with and every lady made to feel at home, the lodge was formally opened and then adjourned.

The ladies were welcomed by Mr. L. W. Gibbeney in a few appropriate and well chosen words. Refreshments were then served and enjoyed by all present.

After this a Ladies' Auxiliary was organized, and the following ladies were elected as the officers thereof;

President, Mrs. W. T. Shepherd; vice-president, Mrs. T. A. Aaron; secretary and treasurer, Miss Della Baker.

The closing address of the evening was by Mr. G. L. Reid, who spoke encouragingly of the prospects of the council with the co-operation and sympathy of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and bade all an aurevoir.

The contest was decided at the Jefferson Hotel last night, and was attended by thrilling scenes. The method of arriving at a decision was a unique one, and eminently fair. To each of the 702 tickets sold there was a duplicate, and after these had been found correct they were scaled up in separate envelopes.

Little Miss Frances Myers, daughter of Mr. B. T. D. Myers, Jr., was blindfolded and the tickets strewn around her in a circle. She was then turned around several times and told to pick up an envelope. There was a moment of suspense in the crowded room and hall, and then several missives. The report of the committee of Henrico school teachers, appointed to arrange a plan for raising the standard of the entire system of schools in the county, has been submitted to the Board of Trustees for action. The Board will probably meet next month.

Among other things, the report will recommend the consolidation of the three high schools in the county and the establishment of one great and high-class institution at some central point.

Quite a number of the schools closed yesterday for the session.

The question of securing bloodhounds for the county is being discussed in connection with a case upon which the Honrico police are now working.
